

COUNTY SUPERVISOR SCHUMPERT.

Court's General Order Takes Special Notice of Grand Jury's Presentment as to Supervisor Schumpert.

The general order of the court of general sessions, in session here last week, passed by Special Judge H. J. Haynesworth, on motion of Solicitor Sease, just before the hour of adjournment on Saturday, takes special notice of that part of the final presentment of the grand jury presenting County Supervisor John M. Schumpert for certain official acts and for conduct unbecoming the office which he holds.

Referring to Paragraph 5 of the presentment of the grand jury, in which it was stated that the jury thought the charge of $2,700 for putting in sewerage system in the court house and jail to be excessive, that no bids were advertised for, and that one item of the bill was $400 for incidentals which was not itemized and which the jury could not understand, the order passed by the court reads:

"That a copy of Paragraph 5th of said presentment be served upon the solicitor for investigation and that he report his conclusions as to the legality of the contract therein referred to to the grand jury, at the next term of this court, with whatever recommendations he may deem advisable. That a copy of said paragraph be also served upon each member of the county board of commissioners and the supervisor, and they each are hereby required to show cause on the first day of the next term of this court, at 10 o'clock a. m., why the contract mentioned therein was not let to the lowest bidder."

Referring to Paragraph six of the presentment of the grand jury, in which Supervisor Schumpert is presented for "conduct unbecoming the office he holds," the jury stating that it had learned that he had been "frequently under the influence of whiskey, which necessarily incapacitates him to properly discharge the duties of his office," the order reads:

"That under Paragraph 6th of said presentment, the solicitor is hereby instructed to hand a bill of indictment to the grand jury at the next term of this court against John M. Schumpert, for the offense therein mentioned."

The other sections of the paper contain the usual orders as to sentences, witnesses, etc.

The Heller Case.

The solicitor and counsel for the defense in the Heller case entered into an agreement by which a sealed verdict was rendered, said verdict not to be imposed should Heller and the woman comply with certain conditions as to their manner of living. Should the conditions not be complied with, the verdict will be imposed.

THE CHRYSANTHEMUM SHOW.

The Entertainment By The Presbyterian Ladies Very Pleasant and Very Successful.

The ladies of Aveleigh Presbyterian church gave their annual chrysanthemum show Friday afternoon and night. The entertainment was given in the hall above the store occupied by Davenport and Cavanaugh. It was a complete success. Flowers there were in profusion, rich in color and beautiful, and large numbers of people viewed the lovely display and partook of the delightful refreshments.

The decorations beautifully displayed the glories of this season of the year. The walls were festooned with asparagus fern bedecked with autumn leaves and chrysanthemums, with here and there a rose. The display of chrysanthemums was superb. There are many in Newberry who give much attention to the cultivation of this flower with the view of obtaining choice specimens for this annual entertainment, which has now become fixed and which is always a source of pleasure to lovers of the beautiful. There were hundreds of choice specimens, and numbers of beautiful collections and designs. In this profusion of chrysanthemums were several jardiniers of lovely roses, rendering the effect all the more beautiful.

The prizes were awarded as follows:

Best white specimen—"Silver Wedding," owned by J. W. Chappell.

Best colored specimen—"Col. D. Appleton," owned by J. W. Chappell.

Honorable mention to "Golden Wonder," owned by J. W. Chappell. Best collection, J. W. Chappell. Honorable mention, Mrs. T. J. McCrary.

Best Jardinier of roses, Mrs. O. McR. Holmes.

Best design, Mrs. O. McR. Holmes. The design was a basket.

DEATH OF M. M. EARHARDT.

Brother of Mayor John W. Earhardt, of Newberry, Dies at His Home in Columbia.

Mr. Maurice M. Earhardt, of Columbia, died at his home in that city at 12 o'clock on Saturday. Mr. Earhardt had been an invalid for some time, and his death was not unexpected.

Mr. Earhardt was a brother of Mayor John W. Earhardt, of this city. He was well known here, having visited here several times, and having stopped here only recently on his return from White Stone, where he had been in the interest of his health.

Mr. Earhardt was the popular salesman at Lever's shoe store, and not only had many warm friends in Columbia, but in Newberry and elsewhere where he was known.

The remains were interred in Lexington, the home of his childhood. The funeral was attended by Mayor Earhardt, who had been constantly at the bedside of his brother for several days preceding his death.

MR. D. HIPPI DEAD.

He Was One of the County's Aged and Most Respected Citizens—Successful Business Man.

Mr. David Hipp died at his home at Pomaria, this county, on Saturday morning, in the 72d year of his age. Mr. Hipp had been in failing health for some time, and his death was not unexpected. The funeral was held at Bethlehem on Sunday morning, the services being conducted by the Rev. J. D. Sheely.

Mr. Hipp at the time of his death was one of the county's oldest and most highly respected citizens. He was a very successful business man, though during the last years of his life he was not actively engaged in business. Many years ago he was in the lumber business near Little Mountain and then in Greenwood county. He returned to Pomaria where he engaged in one of the county's largest mercantile businesses.

Mr. Hipp leaves a wife and one son, Richard H. Hipp, and two grandchildren. He was an uncle of Mr. Edward R. and Mr. John C. Hipp, of this city.

Mr. Hipp for a number of years was prominently and closely identified with the business life of the country, and his death is sincerely mourned throughout the State and wherever he was known.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

No one who is acquainted with its good qualities can be surprised at the great popularity of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It not only cures colds and grip effectually and permanently, but prevents these diseases from resulting in pneumonia. It is also a certain cure for croup. Whooping cough is not dangerous when this remedy is given. It contains no opium or other harmful substance and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult. It is also pleasant to take. When all of these facts are taken into consideration it is not surprising that people in foreign lands, as well as at home, esteem this remedy very highly and very few are willing to take any other after having once used it.
